Dune - part two

Beskrivelse

Paul Atreides søger hævn og samtidig ser de lokale ham som deres Messias. Det endelige opgør med Huset Harkonnen lurer i horisonten på den gulte ørkenplanet Arrakis. Til dem der elsker episke science fiction-film, baseret på Frank Herberts populære roman-serie.

Pædagogisk note

I Dune 2 følger vi, som i den første film, den unge Paul Atreides. Nu har han slået sig ned hos fremenerne og forelsker sig i Chani. Han står overfor valget mellem at redde universet og sit livs kærlighed. Vi er på ørkenplaneten Arrakis. Spørgsmålet om Paul Atreides som en messias-figur føres videre fra den første film. I Dune 2 tydeliggøres konflikten mellem fundamentalisterne blandt fremenerne og dem der mener historien om frelseren, i Paul Atreides' skikkelse, er en myte. Den unge Atreides overbevises gradvist, gennem syn han får, at han er Lisan al Gaib, messias, og hans krig mod Kejseren er hellig krig. Filmen kan fx bruges i engelsk og/eller i religionsundervisningen på ungdomsuddannelserne. Hvor eleverne, i religion, kan undersøge det fænomenologiske i filmen, kan engelsk lave filmanalyse og se på fx de klassiske sci-fi tematikker. Filmen er baseret på Frank Herberts bog Dune (da: Klit). Vær opmærksom på linket til nedenfor med en gloseliste til filmen.

The Fremen honors Paul after the fight against the Harkonnen by accepting him as a Fredaykin (one who is willing to die to right a wrong) and naming him Usul which means 'the strength at the base of the pillar', and he takes the name Muad'Dib. Paul convinces the Fremen he has fought with that they should fight the Emperor together. | 00:40:07 |
| 05: | Visions, Sand Worm Riding, and Fighting
Paul is troubled by visions of people dying and still doesn't believe he is Lisan al Gaib and thus he doesn't follow his mother to the south on her mission to convince people that he is their messiah. Instead he remains in the north, with Chani, fighting the Harkonnen there. | 00:49:07 |
| 06: | How to Conquer Religious Beliefs
